

GEORGETOWN UNIVERSITY

Professionals in Russian, East European, and Eurasian Affairs

www.preea.org

Cordially Invites You to the Conference

Medvedev's Russia: Political and Economic Perspectives Under
The New Administration

April 9, 2007

11:00 – 1:00

Copley Formal Lounge
Georgetown University

Dmitry Medvedev will be inaugurated on May 7th as Russia's next president. How genuine is the Russian transfer of power? In what direction is the U.S.-Russian relationship moving? What will the Russian economy look like in the future? Will Russia remain dependent on natural resource exports, or will its economy diversify? How will changes in the economy affect the Russian political sphere?

Andrei Illarionov

Senior Fellow at the Cato Institute's Center for Global Liberty and Prosperity, Washington DC
Former chief economic adviser to Vladimir Putin (2000-2005)

Trevor Gunn

Director of International Relations and Project Management, Medtronic Inc.
Adjunct Professor, School of Foreign Service, Georgetown University

Edward D. Lozansky

President, American University in Moscow

Andrei A. Piontkovsky

Visiting Fellow, Hudson Institute, Washington, DC
Executive Director, Strategic Studies Center, Moscow

Lunch will be served. To register please send your name and affiliation to rsvp@preea.org

This event is sponsored by GSO and CERES